

Royal Learner Profile

A focus at HBR for the past two years has been on personalized learning. A large component of personalized learning is the need for each student (learner) to be able to identify and articulate strengths, challenges, and learning preferences. This learner profile is meant to help each learner articulate how they learn best and what they are interested in or aspire to be. Please complete this no later than August 12th to help your teachers (Lead learners) know more about you as they make daily decisions surrounding your learning.

This learner profile was adapted from 21 Things 4 Teachers (n.d.). Learner Profiles. Retrieved from <http://21things4teachers.net/PD-Modules/Personalized-Learning-in-the-Classroom/Learner-Profiles.html>
