

Hinckley-Big Rock CUSD #429 Personalized Learning Site Visits

HBR is committed to empowering our students as learners. One such way that we believe our students will be empowered is through personalized learning. Personalized learning maximizes the learning and motivation of students through the utilization of student choice, collaborative design, connections of learning to student pursuits, and student autonomy. This is directly implemented using clearly created goals and outcomes, student self-reflection, and valuable teacher feedback utilizing flexible learning environments and pacing.

One of the tasks related to this year's District goals is to plan for site visits to identify and observe tenets of personalized learning in action. Utilizing a site visit form, each staff member that participates in a site visit will reflect on the observed incorporation of the tenets of personalized learning and how the observed incorporation would result in shared learning opportunities with students at HBR. The following list of schools is tentative and subject to change:
